A new coat of paint has been put on the fronts of the store rooms in the opera house. The continued use of Royal Phosphoric coffee has proven its merits. Boil the coffee ten minutes. Mrs. Clark Lyons, of Rathmel, died Tuesday, Oct. 30th, and was buried the following Thursday forenoon. Look, look, flour was never cheaper. You can get flour at J. A. Welsh's for 55c, 75c, 85c and $1.00 a sack. The ladies of the Presbyterian church will serve a turkey dinner in the Reynolds block on Thanksgiving Day. The Epworth League held a social at the home of Miss Ida Franke in West Reynoldsville last Wednesday evening. A party of hunters from this place and Brookville killed 37 rabbits near Bell's mills on the first day of this month. Miss Winnie Farrell entertained a number of her young friends at her home on Water street last Wednesday evening. John Yewenine and Miss Hannah Reed, both of this place, were married by Rev. P. J. Slattery last Wednesday evening, Oct. 31st. Edward Burns, jr., fell on a rake one day last week and run one of the prongs into his right hand, which made a very ore hand for the lad. Wires were run into Centennial Hall yesterday afternoon and the election returns were received there last night. Admission tickets were sold at 25 cents. The New Bethlehem Vindicator will be 16 years old on November 19th, and will celebrate the occasion by putting out a souvenir edition, giving a general write-up of the town. Mine Host Black of Hotel McConnell put up an excellent supper for a party of young people from Dubois last Wednesday evening. A thirty pound turkey was killed for the supper. President Cleveland has issued a Thanksgiving proclamation designating Thursday, Nov. 29th, as the day for people to observe for returning thanks or blessings of the past year. There were no manifestations of pure villainess exhibited at Reynoldsville in Halloween night. A few pranks were indulged in, but no damage done has been the custom on former Halloween nights.

The public schools will be closed for one week beginning November 12th as that is the week of the teachers' institute which meets at Brookville at that time. All the schools in the county must close whether the teachers go to the institute or not. To relieve headache, correct disorders of the stomach and increase the appetite, and for the cure of liver complaint, use Ayer's Cathartic Pills. They are perfectly safe to take, and invariably promote a healthy action of the digestive and assimilative organs. You can save your money and get 6 per cent. interest, if you invest in the German National Building and Loan Association. No entrance fee is required. It is the best Loan Association in existence. Inquire of Henry A. Reed, the shoe man, for particulars. Hopkins mill shut down Monday evening and will begin to-morrow again. This was done to give twenty of the men the privilege of going to Lock Haven to vote. They were furnished with free transportation from the Clinton county Republican committee. Ed. C. Burns owns a horse that was shipped from Oregon to Oil City about three years ago and then driven from Oil City to this place. On Sunday he turned the horse into a pasture field and it got out. Mr. Burns caught the animal near Corsica Monday on its way to Oil City. Miss Virginia Vorhees, the elocution teacher from Pittsburg, gave an elocutionary entertainment in Centennial hall Monday evening. Miss Vorhees is a good elocutionist and succeeded in pleasing her large audience. Her selections were from Shakespeare and other standard authors. The parade given by Carl Brehm's "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" Co. has a novelty never before introduced in a parade. The music furnished by his band is alone worth taking a day off to hear, but the novelty bottles introduced in the parade caps the climax. Don't fail to see the parade at noon Monday, Nov. 12th. Rev. P. J. Slattery will deliver a series of Sunday evening lectures in the M. E. church of this place, beginning Sabbath evening, Nov. 11th, 1894. Subject, "The bible in the light of modern discovery." All are cordially invited to attend, especially such as are inclined to be skeptical, but who are honest seekers after truth. It is claimed that bi-chloride of mercury is a remedy that will cure three-fourths of all cases of diphtheria if properly administered. It is not a dangerous remedy, can be used by any person, and will kill the germs of diphtheria in twenty-four hours. Very seldom that the second child will get the disease where the bi-chloride is used in a family. The People's Party held a meeting in Centennial hall last Friday evening. The hall was packed. The speakers of the evening were H. H. Sticker, of Punsutawney; H. E. Nickel, of this place, candidate for Assemblyman; R. B. Fry, of New Kensington, candidate for Congress, and W. B. Wilson, of Blossburg, Tioga county, Pa. There is some talk of starting a Sunday paper in Dubois. The parties interested in the scheme are trying to make arrangements to have the paper printed at the Falls Creek Herald office, as that office has a paper folder and none of the Dubois offices have that convenient piece of machinery. Bro. Bangert has a first-class office. The Jefferson County Directors' Association will hold its sixth semi-annual convention on Thursday of Institute week. The directors will meet in the grand jury room at 10:30 A. M., for the transaction of the business of the Association and the discussion of such questions as may be brought before them, and will meet in Institute with the teachers in the afternoon. A special train was run from Reynoldsville to Punsutawney Monday evening to accommodate those who wanted to attend the prohibition meeting at Punx. The Keystone band went with the "Prohibits" from this place. The Pancoast and Falls Creek martial bands also joined the excursionists. By the time the train arrived at Punsutawney there was a fair-sized crowd on board. The Philadelphia Times says that there is now in course of erection at the Altoona shops a new passenger locomotive which is expected to cover one hundred miles an hour without any trouble. The wheels are larger in diameter than the ordinary engine and will be equipped with ball bearing, like a bicycle. It will also have a steam pressure of but ninety pounds against eighty pounds pressure in the locomotive now used. If you want to save your money, invest it in the German National Building and Loan Association of Pittsburg; it has advantages that no other association in the state gives. Inquire of Henry A. Reed, the shoe man, for particulars. Remember there is no entrance fee. It will pay you to consult Mr. Reed as he is thoroughly posted in Loan's and can show big inducements to the investor and borrower, and give printed matter fully explaining the workings of the Association.

Death from Locked-jaw. An eight-year-old granddaughter of Gordon Clark, who lives near Big Soldier, ran a nail into the little toe of her left foot one week ago last Sunday and died from locked-jaw on Monday of this week. Close at 8.30 P. M. All the merchants of Reynoldsville, with two or three exceptions, have signed an agreement to close their places of business at 8.30 P. M. for the next six months. This took effect Monday evening of this week. The merchants have long hours and this new arrangement will give them some liberty before time to retire for the night. There is provision made for keeping the stores open later than 8.30 P. M. on Saturday nights and during the holidays. Post No Bills. The interior of the Reynoldsville post-office for years, if not from the time the office was first established at this place, has been decorated with advertisements of various kinds. After Evan Trego McGaw assumed postmastership and had the office remodeled, no advertisements were allowed to be put on the walls unless enclosed in a neat frame. The postmaster put up a notice last Wednesday that all advertisements on the walls would have to be taken down November 1st, and thereafter none should be put up, as it is contrary to laws governing postoffices to have any form of advertisements displayed. Store Carried Away. Milton Sloppy opened up a small restaurant and tobacco store in his building at the corner of Water and Main streets several months ago. His stock of tobacco and cigars consisted of 500 cigars and one box of tobacco. Last Thursday night robbers gained an entrance into the store by springing the front doors open and carried off all of Mr. Sloppy's tobacco and cigars, and a few pies. The stock was small but the thieves were greedy and took all. It is likely that the robbers are the same chaps who have ransacked the tannery office several times within the past month. They are not imported thieves; it is certainly home talent. Not on the Ticket. The names of A. D. Deemer, of Brookville, for Assemblyman, and James H. Brown, of Eldred township, for Jury Commissioner, did not appear in the Prohibition column on the ballot. Solomon Shaffer, county chairman, issued circulars last week instructing the Prohibitionists how to vote. The circular stated that the official certificates of the nomination of Mr. Deemer and Mr. Brown was mailed in due time to the Secretary of the Commonwealth at Harrisburg, and to the commissioners of Jeff. Co., but for some unaccountable reason the certificates never reached their destination, and in consequence the names of the two county candidates did not appear on the ballot. An Old Settler Gone. Hugh Dougherty, one of the old citizens of Beechwoods, died on Tuesday night of last week. Mr. Dougherty was eighty years old. He was born in county Tyrone, Ireland, and came to America when a young man and settled in Beechwoods. The funeral services were held at the old homestead in Beechwoods Thursday, conducted by Rev. Geo. H. Hill, pastor of the Beechwoods Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Dougherty had been a leading member for many years. The Brookwayville Record in speaking of the funeral says: "The concourse which followed the body to its last resting place in the Beechwoods cemetery, was one of the largest which ever paid the last tribute of respect to a beloved neighbor in a community where brotherliness is akin to family ties." Town Council. The town council held their regular monthly meeting in the town hall Monday evening. George Sykes asked to have sidewalks built on Jackson street to wooden mill and that the street be repaired. A petition with one hundred names attached, for the opening of the east end of Grant street, was referred to City Solicitor. Orders amounting to $900.00 were ordered to be drawn. Jerry Myers got the contract to build the new bridge on north street. The street commissioner was instructed to notify Mrs. Saxton to build sidewalks on Taylor and Pancoast streets or the borough will build the same. J. J. Sutter asked for line of sidewalk on Pancoast street. A new ordinance relating to hucksters, peddlers, agents, etc., is to be passed. Piece goods, boots and shoes are to be added to the new ordinance, and fine raised to $10.00 to $25.00 per day. Certificate of indebtedness No. 4, which calls for $533.25, is to be lifted. Geo. Sprague holds the certificate. On motion Bradford street is to be paved if the paving is extended on Main and Jackson streets. What other business was done by the council the secretary saith not, and as the secretary received strict orders not to let the newspaper men get hold of the minutes, we can not inform the public if there was any other business transacted. New glassware just received at H. J. Nickle's. Silver belt buckles at Hoffman's, the jeweler.

COMMITTED SUICIDE. Thomas Painter's Remains Found Hanging to a Tree. Last Friday evening the body of Thomas Painter was found dangling from the end of a rope which was tied to the trunk of a tree near Wm. T. Cathers' farm in the neighborhood of Big Soldier mine. The body was in a ghastly condition when found. The eyes and tongue had either fallen out or been plucked out by birds. The body was in a bad state of decomposition. The young man found a tree that had fallen and lodged in another tree. He climbed up the trunk of the leaning tree, attached one end of the rope to the tree, the other end around his neck, and jumped into eternity. He was a brother of Mrs. Conrad Heemer, of Prescottville, and had a brother living at Sykesville. Ten days before the body was found the young man left his sister's home in Prescottville and said he was going to Sykesville. As he was not heard from after that and by the decomposed condition of the body, it is supposed that he had been hanging to the tree ten days. A young man who was working near the place where the body was found hanging to a tree, which was near a cornfield, at first thought it was a scarecrow, but investigation revealed the awful fact that it was the body of a man. Notice was given and the proper authorities took charge of the body and held an inquest. It was difficult to identify the body. All the man had in his pockets was one dollar. He had changed his clothing after leaving his sister's. Mr. Heemer identified the rope the man had used to end his life as the one that he, Heemer, had used to tie his cow. The remains were buried in the Prospect cemetery Saturday forenoon. The deceased was twenty-five years old. Three years ago he was a driver in the mines at this place and went from here to West Virginia. He was suffering from disease before he went to Virginia and kept getting worse all the time, which made life a burden to him. He returned to Reynoldsville about a month ago. Justice L. A. Hays empanelled the following jury to hold an inquest: Dr. E. Q. McHenry, G. W. Mohney, D. E. Phillips, Ed. McKee, W. T. Cathers and A. S. Armstrong. The finding of the jury was that Thomas Painter committed suicide by hanging. Yesterday's Election. Below will be found the result of the election in this vicinity yesterday. PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY. A Good Citizen Spends His Money Among the Local Tradesmen. The member of a community who habitually ignores his home merchant, mechanic or tradesman, and makes his purchases and spends his money in other towns does not deserve the name of a good citizen. That it pays to trade near home is a well established fact, and no town or city ever prospered whose citizens, enticed by the alluring baits held out by the merchants in the big cities, spend their money with them. The local merchant and mechanic are interested in the progress and development of the town and country in which they live, and every dollar that they amass is reinvested and remains in the neighborhood. As they prosper their taxes increase, and just so much those of others are lightened. They assist in keeping up your schools, churches and other public institution and charities. But the person who spends his money in some distant city puts it beyond assisting in any local enterprise. The man in the city upon whom you bestow your custom has no further interest in you or your surroundings than the cash he receives from you. It is no concern of his whether you are devoid of social, church or educational privileges, or whether your streets or highways are well made or an aboriginal Indian trail. The surplus money which he has to bestow will go to enrich the exchequer of institutions from which you will never receive any benefit and to add to the wealth of communities in which you have no financial interest. And further, there is no good reason for this impolitic unbusinesslike diversion of trade. The business men in the smaller cities and towns can and do sell goods year in and year out as cheaply as do those of the larger places. The lower expenses, cheaper rent and immunity from the exorbitant municipal taxes which prevail in the great cities enable them to do so and still make a living profit. But the shrewd city merchants, by advertising certain goods at ridiculously low prices, manage to attract gullible patrons to their places of business, with the knowledge that they will succeed in selling them other goods at advanced prices to reimburse themselves for the loss on the "leader" and leave themselves a handsome profit. The home merchant is established here and expects to pursue his business among us indefinitely. The continuance of his trade is dependent upon his fair and uniform treatment of his customers and the quality of his goods. His field is limited, and should he resort to shady methods or foist dishonest wares upon his patrons his reputation would be gone and his trade consequently lost. But the metropolitan merchant has a wide and an almost unlimited field. His patrons are from all parts of the country, and if he can be so fortunate as to get one "good deal" from each one he does not expect them to return. The ideal community is that in which there is a reciprocity of good feeling among merchants in all branches of trade, mechanics, professional men, working men and farmers, each availing himself as far as possible of the other's services, buying his goods or employing his labor, as the case may be. The community where this practice obtains is always found to be an exceptionally prosperous one, populated by cheerful, honest, neighborly and enterprising people, and a good place for the home seeker to locate in. The Punsutawney News says: An interesting astronomical event will take place on the 10th of November next, when there will be the transit of the planet Mercury across the face of the sun. The coming transit will be visible from 10.00 A. M. to 3.00 P. M. The planet will travel across the face of the sun at the rate of about one hundred thousand miles per hour, a little faster than most people would care to travel, and yet the sun is so large, the diameter of the sun's disc being estimated at 860,000 miles and so far away from us that the speed of the transit will appear so slow as to be almost imperceptible. It may be seen to an advantage with a telescope. The home newspaper always booms home enterprise; always freely advertises the community's resources; always encourages every thing that will benefit society, the land owner, the property holder and the financial standing of the community, but alas, on the other hand there are some people who do not encourage home newspapers. Some do not subscribe and some never pay.—Ex. Henry A. Reed, the shoe man, always handled good shoes. If you need anything in shoes, now is your chance, as he is selling all shoes at cost. All shoes must be sold before January 1st. Glenn Milliren has just received another gross of umbrellas which are the most durable in the world for the money—from 70c. up.
